Third Sunday of Easter: Reflection - Christ's own death and resurrection from the dead, though, is assurance to Saint Peter that the sacrifice of his life and death is not in vain, but sealed in the blood of Christ, who has the power to bring eternal life to all who are willing to take up their cross each day and follow their Lord.

We can say as well that Peter was challenged to prefer nothing whatever to Christ, who in fact preferred nothing whatever to Peter, representing the whole human race, loved without measure by God.

The Lord calls to each of us, even in our weakness and sin to love our God above all else.

We may ask if we willingly run to the Lord like Peter did, even when faced with setbacks, disappointments and trials. We need to keep in mind that the Lord is always ready to renew us in faith and give us fresh hope in all the challenges of life.

Do I recognize that I am being asked to open my heart and mind to receive God's word, to act upon it, and to be Christ's follower for the rest of my life? Are we all ready and willing to do so? Nothing but our own free will can keep us from God's love for us and our loving God in return.,

The great gift being offered to us is of infinite value. God loved us first and our love for God is but a response to infinite mercy and grace.

Pray for the souls of Teresa Connolly (Wife of Hugh Connolly, New York and Crush), and Bishop Emeritus Brendan Comiskey ss.cc., formerly Annyalla, Co. Monaghan. May they rest in peace.
